SDQ423 FOURTH QUARTER 2023 MARKET REPORT SAN DIEGO RETAIL

OVERVIEW. The local retail market has recovered from its pandemic-induced dip in occupancy, though activity remains light across leasing, sales, and construction measures. Average asking lease rates moved inconsistently following the 2020 pandemic as landlords struggled to navigate through unprecedented market conditions. 2022 saw asking rates return to steady increases which continued through 2023. The dramatic growth of e-commerce came at the expense of brick-and-mortar retail locations for many years. E-commerce growth is now tapering off to a more modest pace, and increasingly retailers are pursuing an omnichannel strategy, integrating physical and online strategies.

VACANCY & AVAILABILITY. Direct/sublease space (unoccupied) finished 2023 at 3.83%, 10 basis points below the vacancy rate of a year ago. Vacancy measures the amount of space which is unoccupied regardless of whether it is being marketed for sale or lease. Availability measures the amount of space which is on the market, regardless of whether it is occupied. Direct/sublease space being marketed was 4.30% at the end of Q4. This is a 1.7% increase versus Q4 2022. The gap between the vacancy rate and the availability rate was 47 basis points at the end of Q4. Over the past decade, the average gap between these two figures has been 95 basis points. Some of this change can be attributed to the anemic construction pipeline. Available properties under construction count towards the availability rate, but not the vacancy rate. The reported number underrepresents the "true" availability rate as many mall owners are not marketing all of their available space in the open market.

LEASE RATES. The average asking triple-net lease rate per month per square foot in San Diego County ended 2023 at $2.39, which is an increase of 4% compared with Q4 2022's rate of $2.30. The average asking lease rate has increased a total of 17% from the pre-pandemic level. Typically, new construction acts as a catalyst for raising the average rental rate. In San Diego the construction pipeline has been below historical norms in recent years, but there has been an ongoing trend of redevelopment of functionally obsolete retail properties. This removes properties with the lowest rental rates from the market, pushing the average asking rate higher.

TRANSACTION ACTIVITY. The combined amount of retail property sold or leased during Q4 2023 was approximately 1.1 MSF, equivalent to Q4 2022's total. There was 540,348 SF of leasing activity in Q4. Leasing activity has slowed significantly. The average quarterly leasing volume in 2023 was 590,886 SF, while the preceding two years had an average quarterly leasing volume of 774,804 SF. 69 retail buildings sold for a total of $145 million in Q4, bringing the 2023 total sales volume to $1.1 billion dollars. This sales total was bolstered by the sale of the Westfield Mission Valley regional mall, as well as the Westfield North County Mall. The seller of these two properties was the French company Unibail-Rodamco-Westfield. At one time, Australian based Westfield Group owned almost all of the regional malls in San Diego County. Since its acquisition by Unibail-Rodamco in 2014, the successor company has deleveraged and sold a majority of its U.S. properties. URW's last remaining holdings in San Diego County are the UTC mall and Plaza Bonita in National City.

SD Q4 23 RETAIL

ABSORPTION. The retail market finished 2023 with 33,255 SF of positive net absorption. This equates to a 0.03% change in the total retail tenant footprint in San Diego County. So the market was quite stable in 2023, following 1.2 MSF of positive net absorption in 2022.

CONSTRUCTION. There were 180,217 SF of new construction deliveries in 2023, the lowest annual total in decades. The two largest retail buildings constructed in 2023 were both auto dealerships: a 65,000 SF BMW dealership in Carlsbad, and an 18,000 SF Carvana in Mission Valley. Car dealerships being the largest construction completions of the year is a clear demonstration that the construction pipeline is at a trickle. Over the five most recent calendar years the market has seen an average of 345,686 SF of annual deliveries, compared with the 589,445 SF annual average in the preceding five-year period. Traditional ground-up shopping center development constitutes less of the construction pipeline than in the past. One redevelopment accounts for more than half of the space under construction at the end of 2023, with 300,000 SF coming from the repositioning of the Horton Plaza mall in Downtown San Diego. San Diego has perennially been a supply-constrained market for retail real estate. After the drubbing retailers took following the COVID outbreak, and with the ever-present growth of E-commerce, there remains little appetite by developers to ramp up any large-scale developments at this time.

EMPLOYMENT. The unemployment rate in San Diego County was 4.2% in November 2023, unchanged from a revised 4.2% in October 2023, and above the year-ago estimate of 3.3%. This compares with an unadjusted unemployment rate of 4.9% for California and 3.5% for the nation during the same period. Over the 12-month period between November 2022 and November 2023, San Diego County employment increased by 21,900 jobs, an increase of 1.4%. With the normal delay in reporting from the California EDD, employment figures from December were unavailable at the time of publishing this report. For the nation as a whole, 216,000 jobs were added in December, and weekly new jobless benefit claims finished the year at their lowest level in two months.

Forecast

The limited supply pipeline in San Diego keeps the market stable. There have been more than 2 MSF of new retail properties completed in the last six years, and yet the total market size has decreased during that time frame with tear-down redevelopments outpacing new construction. We predict the overall retail property inventory will continue contracting somewhat in the coming years, helping to keep vacancy levels from rising significantly. Leasing volume was and is below historic norms, which will dampen net absorption for the coming quarters. High interest rates and tight lending standards are acting as headwinds in the current commercial property sales market, though the rate cuts anticipated in 2024 will help.

SD Retail – It's Competitive Out There.

As we end 2023, San Diego County retail real estate remains very competitive in many ways.

Retail supply continues to change all over the county. The State and local municipalities are pushing to increase residential housing supply. The City of San Diego has established aggressive new zoning laws, increasing housing density. The most significant is the Complete Communities zoning standard, which indirectly makes retail properties in certain designated areas much more valuable, but not for their current use as retail. For example, in Kearny Mesa alone, there has been more than 450,000 SF of retail space already demolished, or scheduled in the near future, to make way for exclusively multi-family projects. There are many retail tenants that have been forced to relocate or close. Retail supply is rapidly diminishing, and this will result in higher rents and higher retail real estate values.

In addition, leasing vacancies have remained very low and are holding at about 4% in San Diego County. As a result, leasing volume dropped in 2023. San Diego County has traditionally suffered from "all the good space is already taken," meaning the very strong retail submarkets are 97-99% occupied yet there is no new development in these specific markets. The new zoning strategy will only exacerbate this effect. Also, rents have only modestly increased in 2023 but this should positively change going forward.

On the capital markets side of retail, we have seen transactions slow, primarily due to the high cost of capital. Since most of 2023 was impacted by rapidly increasing interest rates, it caused a widening in the disconnect of "bid versus ask." Leveraged buyers started requiring lower prices to compensate for their increased borrowing costs, yet sellers were not willing to let go of the high price expectations set in the preceding months. We believe rates will decrease and stabilize in the coming year. San Diego County retail has always been a desirable investment and that will not change.

Zoning impacts on the retail supply, low vacancy rates, anticipated acceleration of rent increases and the stabilizing cost of capital will all make for a very competitive retail market in 2024.
