CAREER SUMMARY

Travis is a specialist in owner-user sales and tenant representation throughout Southern California. With his unrivaled dedication to client service and market knowledge, Travis is well known for delivering best-in-class results. Prior to joining Voit, he was a top producer at an Irvine based brokerage firm where he focused on value-add contemporary office space. Working with local investors, Travis assisted with the repositioning, stabilizing, and disposing of over 500,000 square feet of trophy assets. Since joining Voit Real Estate Services in 2017, Travis has taken this knowledge to service his clients and assist with building generational portfolios. Focusing on long term value and anticipating the needs of potential tenants and buyers has been a key to his success.

Originally from Orange County, Travis worked in lifestyle marketing prior to starting his career in commercial real estate. His time spent in a creative work environment and his understanding of the construction required to deliver contemporary office space has given him an edge in commercial brokerage.
