CAREER SUMMARY

During his twenty-one-year real estate career, Dan has gained a stellar reputation as a market expert in the sales and leasing of industrial properties in the Los Angeles and Orange County marketplace. In recent years, Dan has built a market leading team consisting of skilled and ambitious industrial brokers, client support coordinators, and property marketing specialist to assist and support his clients. He has represented a wide array of private owners and institutional landlords with marketing, leasing and selling their buildings and business parks to the most qualified and distinguished tenants and buyers available in the market, using a combination of in-depth market knowledge and technology. As an owner and landlord of industrial buildings himself, Dan's uses his owner's perspective to guide his clients towards making sound real estate decisions to maximize their investment performance and minimize unintended risks. Constantly searching for new and many times off-market opportunities for his clients in the consistently low vacancy and ultra-competitive LA/OC industrial markets has allowed Dan to capitalize on many opportunities that are never brought to market or seen by other brokers or interested parties. As you can see, it pays to dividends to work with Dan's Team!
