CAREER SUMMARY

OVERVIEW

Tim has spent the past 25 years in executive healthcare operations and corporate real estate expertise in U.S. and International markets. Tim demonstrated success building teams, leading strategic initiatives, driving operational excellence and delivering revenue growth. His team has helped improve the results for clients, patient experience and clinical outcomes.

During his years running healthcare operations, Tim led several U.S. headquarter corporate relocations, established international office locations, partnered on DeNovo clinics in California and oversaw a 100+ nationwide multi-site clinic portfolio for acquisition, disposition, and lease renewals.

Tim is a trusted advisor for corporate real estate occupiers and investors. He guides healthcare, medical and life science companies including physician practices, surgical centers, clinics, labs, and wellness groups to achieve their full potential. He is an active supporter of non-profit organizations in underserved communities throughout San Diego.
